

By: Travis Haberman
OK Lic#70003200

“The Happy Home Inspector”(tm)

Of Sure Foundation Home Inspections LLC

Hi, I'm Travis Haberman “the Happy Home Inspector”(Tm) owner of Sure Foundation Home Inspections LLC. My goal isn't just to do a darn good inspection, it's to give home buyers/sellers and their families peace of mind during one of life's biggest financial decisions. I grew up in a family of blue-collar construction workers and construction business owners. I have had the passion to learn and the experiences of building, repairing and now inspecting all aspects of construction from A-asphalt and concrete to Z-flashing and roofing. I have a natural love of teaching and helping. Put those together with my history in construction. Becoming a real estate inspector was a no brainer. With my 10+ years of experience working in various construction jobs and by using modern tools like (Spectora), I can provide careful, quick, clear, concise and courteous inspections with detailed reports. And be able to give you a full summary with pictures on my iPad on-site getting the finalized report to you the same day. All that along with my professional approach and practiced knowledge, I provide inspections that are both thorough and reassuring. with a positive, fun attitude that makes the whole process a little less stressful, and definitely a better home inspection experience. I believe my clients deserve honesty, clarity and an inspector that's there for them, and to be able to smile along the way. I deliver inspections you can stand sure on! I offer 15 extra services to help you to know more so you can take better care of your home. Some of those I offer are: sewer scoping, floor duct scoping, mold swab tests, indoor air quality tests with lab reports within 24 hours or faster with extra fee for lab rush, water quality testing, free home maintenance guides, a list of local and trusted service companies, and more... With me you don't get surprises, but clear information with solutions. So book with me to get the best home inspection experience ever. My customer service is second to none, my clients are my # 1 priority. I help you protect and maintain your home. Thank you and God bless. I'm the happy home inspector -Trav- owner of Sure Foundation Home inspections LLC, Serving Oklahoma City, and surrounding areas.